SIMON BOLIVAR, supreme chief of the republic, and captain general of the armies of Venezuela and New Granada, &c. &c.

VENEZOLIANS! The people, the general, and the armies have called on me, through the me-dium of general Arismendi. Here I am in obedience to your commands. I come at the head of a fourth expedition, with the brave admiral Brion, to serve not to command you. VENEZULIANS! You had conferred on me the represent the two last periods of the republic. You forced me at once to sit on nch, and to fight in the field. Our country of course, has suffered in the administra-tion, and in the war. As conqueror, I never could gather the fruits of our victories to attend to the cares of the government. The distribution of justice, our political affairs, our industry, all were suffering, while I was engaged in the field of battle.

Cirizana! An imperious necessity com-mands, without delay, the assemblage of the national congress, to take an account of my conduct, to receive the resignation of the au-thority I now exercise, and to frame the political constitution, for the regulation of our future government.

VENEZOLIANS! You have been called on by me since the month of May, to form the legis-lative body, without any restrictions, leaving to your d scretion the time and place where it is to be held. The vicissitudes of the war You cannot form an idea of this iste: all that have prevented a compliance with your wishes, you have read or heard of it makes it a para- and the circumstances of the day will not ad-

Thus, then, our government undoubtedly possesses the right to fit out vessels of war, our vessels into their ports, in like manner as we did during the late war, without infringing the laws of nations, and without violating peace and neutrality. My DEAR FRIEND-Although I was born in Holmes Eliza nfortunate Spain, I don't consider myself Hassinger Jon ound to the miseries which my compatriots Hudson Susan uffer under the stupid Ferdinand. I love my country but I despise its king and its tyramical laws. Under these considerations, I have Harrison J. and I have sworn on the altars of the republic to live free or die. very inhabitant. Our military stores are abundantly provided, and discipline and good order are shown in every part where his command reaches. Our corsairs bring to us every day, valuable prizes. We have money enough; and, we may say, that we are in want of very little. The numerous tribes of In dians come to us with presents of friendship, and they are well disposed to take arms against the common enemy. These poor peo-ple have suffered so much in former times, that they are ready to do any thing against the Kean Charles Spanish government. We know how to take advantage of this good disposition of the aborigines and masters of this soil. We are already in march; our army is increasing daily, and I have every hope that I will soon write you from the capital of Mexico, after having fixed the standard of liberty in every house of that populous and wealthy city.

By the arrival of the ship Caroline, captain Titcomb, in 51 days from Cadiz, we have received the following verbal intelligence:
On the 6th Jan a fleet of 40 sail of Spanish transports, with about 2,509 soldiers on board, under convoy of 2 frigates and 3 sloops of war, sailed for Vera Cruiz, where they were to remain until the arrival of another fleet, which was to sail about the middle of February, first

TO THE PUBLIC.

THE Author has no design of pecuniary reward in offering his proposals to the public-he thinks not of the meanness that always follows duplicity—in a word he wi-hes through the aid of the public, that he may be suppor-ted in this respect. His design is laudable, he intends that a part of the proceeds of the work shall be applied in classic. shall be applied in charry. Citizens of Tennessee be not backward on this occasion; still think of those who live in ignorance—think of the benighted soul of the Hindeo. It is expec-ted that every man who has benevolence in his heart will sub-cribe.

Extract from the Author's Preface. "It is for the patriot, the soldier and the statesman to gather laurels in their different avocations; but it remains only for the poor humble rout to liv down his bays at the feet of a candid public, and await the decision of their just tribunal.
